DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, requires the specification to be written in "full, clear, concise, and exact terms." The specification is replete with terms, which are not clear, concise and exact. The specification should be revised carefully in order to comply with 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Examples of some unclear, inexact or verbose terms used in the specification are: the holes "in irradiating form", "facilitate reversed U metal wire", "middle section at four perimeters". On Page 4, line 19 mistyped reference number for the other fixture.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-4 are rejected as best understood under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lai.

Art Unit: 2835

Lai discloses the heat dissipation device for a computer comprising the hollow and flexible conduit 12, the two fixtures 14,16, having a circular hole in the center and positioning holes, the fixture 16 is rectangular, fixture 14 is attached to the computer case; the fan 30, the U-shaped wire 18 is used to attach the conduit to the fixture; the air conduit can be used for bi-directional airflow.

Lai discloses the claimed invention except rectangular fixtures on both ends of the conduit and the positioning holes are arranged as they can accommodate different sizes of CPU fans. Several prior art references cited in US PTO 892 Form, which are not applied at this time, disclose the rectangular fixtures on both sides of the conduit therefore it is obvious, it is also obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to provide additional holes for attaching different sizes of the CPU fans as well known and widely used practice in the industry.
